Two Children are Roasted Alive in a Two-Story Frame House in Chicago.

Narrow Escape of the Employes of New York Closs Manufacturers, A Fatal Leap Burned to Death.

CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7 .- Two calldren, a boy aged ten and his sister three years younger, were burned to death in beds at No. 52 Warren avenue, by fire, which broke out at 2:35 o'clock this morning. The house is a two story frame the home of George Davis. The flames were already under great headway when discovered by neighbors, who turned in the alarm from the box at the corner of Wood and Madison streets. The occupants of the house had not been aroused at the time the discovery was made, and such as saved themselves were obliged to jump from upper-story windows, the first floor of the building having been completely enveloped in flames by this time. The mother of the children was burned very severely, if not fatally, and had one arm broken in several places. Firemen made desperate endeavors to save the children. desperate endeavors to save the children.

In a New York Factory.

New York, Oct. 7.—A fire broke out this morning early in the four-story fac-tory building, Nos. 68 to 67 Bayard street. It is David Binck's old tinware factory, and has been on fire several times before. Eight different firms have shops in it. In Sign different firms have shops in it. the hospital.

A little boy, who was clinging to the cornice of the peaked house, was rescued by Paul J. Shapell, an old gvolunteer fireman, with the aid of some citizens and the police. The police went upon the roof of the tall tenement at No. 71, and threw a rope down to the factory employes still left on the roof of the burning building, and they were rescued, one after another. The others were taken into the window the peak-roofed house. Hy-Roberts hurt his arm badly. All this took but a few minutes, and then then the police and firemen put up the ladders. At this time the roof of the fac-tory was on fire, but the firemen soon mastered the situation. Dates Fixed for the Trial of Four Jashne's Accomplices.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 .- Wm. B. Miller, Henry L. Sayles, Republicans, and Wm. P. Kirk and Patrick Farley, Democrats, members of the "boodle" board of aldermen of 1884, whose cases were placed on to-day's calendar of the general sessions court for the purpose of fixing the trial days, were on hand to-day with their law-yers when their cases were called. Dis-Judge Cowing and announced the dates for trial, placing Sayles first for next Monday. Lawyer Newcombe representing Sayles asked for a delay, pleading other engagements, and was finally given a week's grace. The other cases were set down accordingly with the understanding that no further delay would be granted. Sayles' trial most proceed on the 18th Inst., Farley's and Miller's on October 25 and Kirk's on the first Monday in November. There was a peremptory order issued by Judge Cowing before whom the cases will be brought.

Cotton Futures.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 .- C. L. Greene & Co.'s report on cotton futures says It was essentially a bear market. On the influence of better advices from Liverpool, a point or two was gained at the opening, with evidence of an effort in a few quarters to hold the proposition, but ilberal supplies offering along the line carried the day, and the bulk of the trading was on a declining scale of prices, closing 5@6 points off from the highest, with the tone easy.

truthfully said that family of Great Britain will regret to hear that the marriage of the Princess Beatrice does not promise to be as happy as might be wished. While it is understood that she is likely to give proof this winter that she loves her lord, the London newspa-pers, which make a specialty of reporting the feelings of the royal family and the nobility, state positively that she is in low spirits, and in such condition that gossips declare she is disappointed in her marriage. Marriage is a lottery in royal marriage. Marriage is a lottery, in royal as in other circles. The fair Beatrice got for her lot the handsomest man in Europe. We know on this continent that the hand-somest man in society is apt to prove a poor matrimonial bargain. Those of us who have both daughters and experience are content with the second or third handsomest man, and those of us who more than once gone through the mill are content to disperse with good looks al-together if we can get for our daughter a man who is honest and well-behaved and able to earn his living.
